

Why Choose Be Young Essential Oils? We Have Stood the Test of Time!

Time is the unit of the measuring system to sequence events, compare the duration, the intervals between events, and quantifying motion of objects.

Time has been a subject of religion, philosophy, science, and in proving out truth but defining it in a non-controversial manner applicable to all fields of study has been consistently eluding even the greatest scholars.

History:

Planets revolving around the earth was the common belief from 900 -1500 A.D. The very definition of how the planets move around the earth keeps you from discovering the correct answer that the planets revolve around the sun.

Even with the years of support and eloquent speeches Time intervened. Copernicus discovered by mathematical equations that if it was the sun (not the earth) at the center of the universe, you would have a working calendar that was real. Eighty years later while looking up in to the heavens with his new invention, the telescope, Galileo saw visual proof that Copernicus was right. The planets do revolve around the sun.

This was such a radical theory Galileo was told he would be burned at the stake if he ever taught this again. Galileo's best friend and college roommate became the Pope approximately twenty years later. Galileo published his work again. The Pope (his best friend?) brought Galileo to be burned at the stake. Galileo was forced to recant, and spent the rest of his life under house arrest.

Only 500 years ago the common belief was that the earth was flat.

From history we make three observations.

- 1) People can be fooled and misled, but Time will always define the truth.
- 2) Time will always support and bear out truth.
- 3) Time never forgets.

Even though the common and well-accepted belief that the earth was the center of the universe, this belief did not make it correct. Truth is truth and public opinion will not change the truth. I call this type of belief a flat spot in knowledge. There seems to be a lot of flat spots in people and in companies.

Test of Time

Let the Legacy Begin

In 1997 Dana Clay Young created his first Essential Oil Blend and called it Spice Trader (known today as Spice For Life). Standing with nature Dana made a life long commitment to always have the purest, unadulterated essential oils he could provide. That same year he created three more blends; Algebra (Chiro Touch), T.L.C. (Physical Touch) and Peace and Calming. His essential oil line soon became the fastest growing product line for a company called Brain Garden.

After leaving Brain Garden Dana took his oil line to New Vision International where in a very short time a grass roots movement began and soon the essential oils became the quickest growing product line in New Vision. During this time Dana also created the P.A.T (Physical Aromatic Touch Program TM) and the E.A.T. (Emotional Aromatic Touch Program TM) to help people understand the language of the body and how essential oils can create a healing environment within the body. In 2005 Dana took his pure, unadulterated essential oil line to Forever Green where in one year over 50% of all orders were for essential oils. Dana has never wavered in his promise to keep the oils pure by having each single oil tested and certified E.O.B.B.D. in order to maintain the quality and effectiveness of his product line. He also continued to develop new oil blends.

Dana's essential oil product line has faced the test of time over the past twelve years. You can fool people for a short time, but this enduring quality stands as a light in the storm of hidden agendas.

Today, Dana's pure essential oil line is enjoyed by thousands through Be Young Essential Oils where the company stands and reminds us that there was a simpler time, a good time, a time that we so badly need to return to. The time and code of our forefathers, a time of honor, a time of truth, a time of the great western movement of great people. The time where your word was your bond and a handshake meant more than a written contract.

We believe we were led together with a purpose to share these gifts from nature with integrity, honesty and commitment to you that these oils are the very best nature can provide. People, who want these products, will come to us and we will grow standing the Test of Time.

Be Young invites you to rise and stand in Truth. Be Young has evolved. You now have the pleasure of sharing with Dana and learning from his expertise as you continue with us being a Sharing Partner with Be Young Essential Oils.

You truly only have one thing that is yours that no one can take from you, your Word. Once you have lost your word you have nothing. You are with a company of integrity and honesty. Spread the Word, remain in Truth and you too will Stand the Test of Time with Be Young.

"My Essential Oil line has stood the Test of Time and I am so glad you are with us at Be Young. We are not a new company but rather a new opportunity."
